Disease Rages in Boston.

Boston, Sept. 23.—Spanish influenza claimed seventy-three victims here today and eighteen persons died from pneumonia, the largest number of deaths on one day since the epidemic started. Dr. Eugene R. Kelley, State Commis-sioner of Health, gave local boards authority to quarantine households in which there is influenza. The death rate among influenza patients since the dis-ease began to spread in this State has been about 2 per cent.

Dr. Kelley advised against the closing of public schools. The Boston School Beard voted to-day to keep the schools open and to instruct teachers to send children home when they developed the slightest symptoms of influenza. Many schools in the suburbs have been closed.

Navy officials halleys the englangle has Navy officials believe the epidemic has been checked in the first naval district. But six deaths were reported to-day from the fourteen naval stations in the district, with a personnel of more than 20,000 men. Every man who is not ill is taking preventive teratment.

In addition to these 36 new cases were removed to isolation wards in city hostitals from a British steamship which strived in port yesterday.

Dr. Copeland also issued the following statement for the headth of local hostilations.

A modified quarantine will be accepted by the Department of Health in institutions. In other words, their tailants may be kept in the sentheir patients may be kept in the gen-eral ward, but separated from pneu-monia cases."

Efficient Cleaning

"I don't find nearly as much dust on the furniture as I did before we bought the vacuum cleaner," said a housekeeper

The explanation is simple. The Electric Vacuum Cleaner collects the dirt and the resulting dust in a dust-proof bag. The old broom method gathered some of the dirt into little piles to be picked up on the dust pan-the rest was scattered, in the form of dust, to be wiped away with a cloth

The old way means two processes, with great personal effort and the consumption of much time, and even then much dirt is left behind. The new electric method means one process, no difficult or exhausting human labor, and sanitary
